SIGNATORY TESTIMONY

"To Australian Integrated Carbon, the Code of Conduct is core business, interwoven into the fabric of our business and everything we do. The Code of Conduct is essential in a market where verification is key: knowing our relationships with key agencies, land managers and carbon buyers are managed in a structured way means there's a high degree of confidence in all of our communications and deliverables."

"...For any industry to flourish it requires a code of conduct rather than simply relying upon government regulation. Best practice is good for all Indigenous and non-Indigenous Carbon Farmers nationally..."

"The Carbon Farming Foundation is committed to integrity, transparency and authenticity in our efforts to see Australia's carbon farming future flourish. We're determined that our farmers get a fair deal and that "credit lands where credit is due....As a recent signatory to the ACI Code of Conduct, our farmers and partners know that we are committed to providing them with industry best practices, tools and services, to assist our initiative of rapidly accelerating carbon farming uptake across Australia."

"The Code has been an invaluable tool to guide our communications to farmers about the risks and benefits of carbon farming projects. The resources provided to farmers and developers through the website are excellent and the fact that there is an independent entity supporting the industry with best practice and providing a dispute resolution procedure is of great value to this growing industry."

"The Code, and its administration arrangements, is an excellent example of an industry proactively ensuring a high level of integrity - particularly in dealings between carbon service providers and other Code signatories with Indigenous bodies, land-holders, local communities and other key stakeholders. Performance against the Code is one factor the Clean Energy Regulator may have regard for in considering any compliance action it may be considering."
